

Cornice Nr. 118 “Amsterdam” (Victorian Style)

“Average sized”, but very well proportioned - another popular cornice design from Ossett Mouldings Limited’s very large choice of patterns.

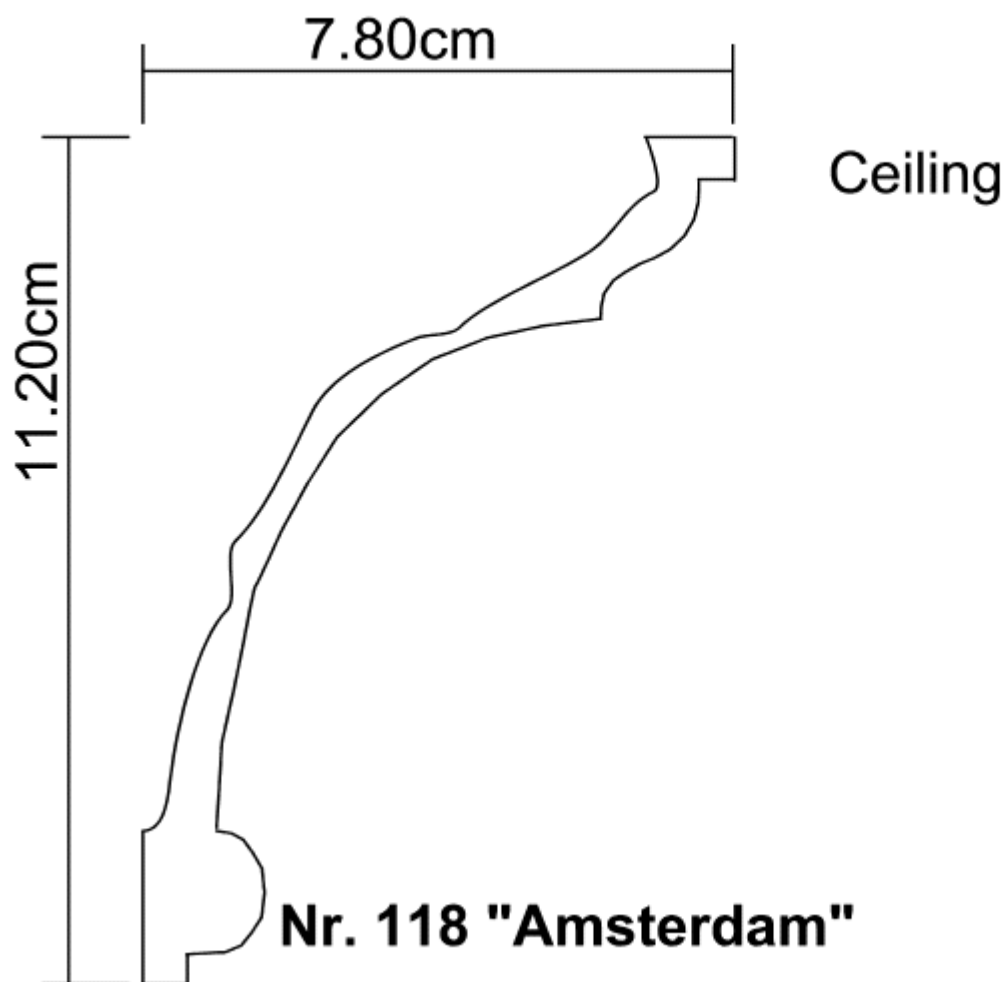

The name relates to the original Hilton hotel this was commissioned for, believe me - a huge amount was installed into this building during the year 1988.

Since then, this has gone into very many relatively new homes and other properties. Despite all this, it is actually Victorian in style and concept.

The photo’ above is quite good, but please do also look at the (hopefully) full size cross section on the second page of this document.

Relatively easy to fix - but please ask us before you start.

Projection 75mm. (c.3”)
Depth 110mm. (c.4.5”)
Length of Cast 3050mm. (10’0”)
Plain Run Profile

This pretty approximate cross section could reproduce full size at A4 page size.

Also we have a complete installed bay of this design at our Shaw Cross showroom - especially so that you can inspect this cornice in "the flesh" and judge it's suitability for your home or project.
